Head Lice From a Louse's Perspective

By: Tristan Johnson, Freshman

Wow! This is really clean hair! I like how a lot of people think I like dirty hair, but I actually can't stand it! I don't like this girl, she blow dried her hair! I hate it when they do that!

All of these boys with really short hair are ticking me off! I mean licing me off! Last time I tried to stay on their heads, I just fell off!

Then there are those girls with really long fingernails keep scratching me! You have no idea how much it hurts! It is crazy! At least I get them out of school, right?

In my opinion, I think these humans are a little unappreciative of me! I am just a little bug, what harm could I do?

Eww! Is that even clean enough to be hair? My Word! I better go to someone different. If you don't have clean hair that I can get a grip of, I'm moving out!

Oh, my stars! This person deserves to have me in their hair! Their hair is so clean and conditioned, I just wanna scream!

She didn't even dye it! She must be just asking for me to stay on her scalp.

One thing a louse hates in a woman is when they plait-braid their hair! I can't get attached! It is too tightly braided for me to get in!

My wife lays about 200 eggs in a 40 day life span! It will take the eggs a whole 9 days to hatch! Sometimes I feel like they will never come! It's like being pregnant forever! I can't imagine how humans wait 9 months!

Mm mm mm..... This girl's shampoo- oooooooo! It left her hair clean, but didn't make it all perfumey! It is like a lice's heaven! It is nice and easy to attach to, and it doesn't make me have to crinkle my nose from the bad, perfumey smell!

Interesting fact: Did you know that me and my family affect over 12 million people in the United States in just one year alone! Doesn't it make you so itching happy!?

Oh no! They checked the head I was on. They pinched the egg and it exploded! My poor baby brother. We were going to grow up together and tell bedtime stories to each other! Now we will never know each other.

A day in the life of a louse is more stressful than you would think. Fingers trying to get you... Just look at this inappreciatively written article written about us lice by humans!

From the Principal's Desk

We wrapped up the first quarter of school on October 19. Overall I have been pleased with the academic progress that I see in students this year, and there appears to be a stronger sense of responsibility and purpose among our students. There are fewer students not eligible to participate at this time this year than last, and there a fewer tardies this year than I have seen. This is a good time to praise your children for the progress they have made, and encourage them to keep up the good work.

The first quarter is also a strong indicator of how well we are managing the transition from Elementary to Middle School for those students in Grade 6, and into High School for those in Grade 9. I am convinced that we have made some good scheduling and staff choices that have made this the best transition year I have seen in my three years here.

Terra Nova tests were taken Oct 24. This is our norm-referenced assessment of choice, and a requirement of Rule 10, which governs the operation of our school. We will report the Reading and Math scores to the Department of Education as mandated. The fall administration of this test eases the burden of assessment in the Spring, when we are required to give the NeSA tests in Reading, Writing, Math and Science, all within five week time frame.

The school board approved work on the track. The new surface work began on Oct 22. By the time you read this, it will likely be finished. Take a stroll or drive by and see what a facelift you, as patrons, have given the athletic complex! We certainly appreciate the public support that has been expressed for this project.

Thank you to those families that have completed the Parent Survey, either at Parent/Teacher Conferences or through the mailing that went to all families. The survey is a requirement for our Quality and Review (QAR) visit this spring. The data that we obtain from the survey will assist us in setting goals for our school and student for the coming years, and help improve the quality of education your children receive. Staff members have also been surveyed, and students will complete a survey as well.

From Country To Country

By: Sadie Christensen, Freshman

Have you ever had to learn a new language? It's not as eay as you think. Our new forgein exchange student is on a mission to learn English. "She says that it not the easiest thing to do but it will be worth it in the future."

Many people may not know our forgein exchange student, she is Fernanda Reyes. She was born on July 30th. Fernanda also has two sisters that are back in Mexico.

Moving here was one of the busiest times for Fernanda because she said that she had to pack her whole closet. She also mentioned that it was hard talking to her parents in person for the last time for a while.

Fernanda said "While living here is fun and I needed a change from Mexico, I really want to move back to Mexico after this year." She said "I miss my family and friends."

However, Fernando will not attending school again here next year. She is planning on moving back to Mexico and going to school there again. While interviewing her she said that she would not encourage other students from Mexico to come here because of how hard it is to learn the language. When the year is over, we are going to miss Fernanda, but we sure are going to have a fun and great year while she is here.

Some people ask, why do we allow or want students like Fernanda to come to Arnold? The answer to that quesiton is quite simple, we want to give these students a new and more successful eduaction for their future lives.

Kindergartners Say The Cutest Things!

By: Tristan Johnson, Freshman

Having the opportunity to interview the Kindergarten is one of the most enjoyable experiences!

From my observations, the Kindergartners love recess and reading out of all of their subjects the best. It is interesting to see the variety of their future career choices. "I want to be a doctor." ,said Riata Redmund. "Because I want to help people." While Jamie Tickle said, "I want to be a firefighter. Because my dad is"

Another big part of the Kindergarten class, and every other class also, is social time spent with friends. When asked who one of his friends was, and what he liked to do with them, Ethan Furne said, "I like to play cops with Will." That makes sense! Because when asked what he wanted to be when he grew up, he said a cop!

Staying true to the culture she lives in, Aubrey Stutzman said that when she grows up she wants to be "A farmer".

It is good that these dreams are starting early. We hope to see those dreams come true as they go through school.

The Election

By: Tristan Johnson, Freshman

This year is the 57th Presidential election that will be held on November 6th. It is important to exercise your right to vote. Your country depends on it.

This year, our presidential race has been extremely close. For our Republican representative, we have Mitt Romney. For our Democratic representative we have our current president, Barack Obama. On the debate on October 3, 2012, nobody was sure who won.

The democratic party's platform is featured on this website: <http://www.democrats.org/democratic-national-platform>

The Republican party platform is featured on this website: http://www.gop.com/2012-republican-platform_home/

Did you know that the Republican party was created to be antislavery, and the Democratic party used to be for slavery?

The Democratic party was formed in 1854 and the Republican party in the early 1970's The Republican's mascot is an elephant, and the Democrat's is a donkey. The Republicans say that the elephant is strong and dignified. The Democrats say that the donkey is smart and brave.

Swing states are states that are not significantly Republican or Democratic. Swing states are often the deciding factor in elections. This year's swing states are: Nevada, Florida, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, North Carolina, New Hampshire, and Connecticut.

Whatever happens, let's just hope that our president can guide us wisely through the next four-year term. October 3, 1992-present

Willard Mitt Romney, born on March 12, 1947, is the official candidate of the Republican party for 2012. He is the 70th governor of Massachusetts. He is the cofounder and CEO of Bain Capital. His vice presidential nominee is Republican Paul Ryan. Romney is married to Ann Romney (1969-present). He has 5 sons, and eighteen grandchildren. Many people saw him as saving the 2002 Winter Olympics by revamping the leadership and fixing the budget.

Barack Hussein Obama, born on January 20, 2009, is the official candidate of the Democratic party for 2012. He is the current 46th president. He was born in Honolulu. Obama is known as the first African-American president of the United States. Barack Obama is a big example of how far we have come to making all races come equal. Barack Obama has 2 daughters.

Get Your Pennies Ready!

By: Tristan Johnson, Freshman

Instead of a food drive in which you bring food, the NHS and the NJHS have decided to do a penny war. War is coming! That is, a penny war. Get your bills out to defend yourselves and your extra change to attack.

For every penny collected, one point is added to that class' points. To attack another team, add bills to another team. For every dollar in bills, 1 point per penny is deducted from whichever class' jar it is in.

All the money raised will go to purchase needed items for the local food pantry. In addition, you can also bring non-perishable items to the school library.

The penny war will be between all the grades K-12. The class who raises the most money will be the winner and will get a pizza party over lunch at school.

So, make a difference today and participate in this wonderful opportunity to raise money for the local food pantry!

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR PIZZA?

By: Savannah Weinman

I like a rare kind of pizza. I was so surprised when I took my first bite out of a piece of a Canadian bacon pizza. The unusual kind of pizza has the weirdest toppings I ever heard of. One of the toppings I like is the ham; it's greasy, soothing and silky. Another topping is pineapple; I know, I know. Right? You're thinking, "Pineapple on pizza???? Gross??"

No, it's awesome! I also like the thin crust; because of the crusty hard crunch I hear when I bite into it.

Pizza crust is hard, and soothing. It melts in my mouth. Sometimes I eat pizza for breakfast, lunch and supper, but only one kind of pizza. I eat Canadian bacon pizza. That's my favorite. I love Canadian pizza, because of the cheese, and ham and definitely the pineapple.

The pineapple is both sweet and sour at the same time. It makes my mouth moist and silky. I put extra pineapple on my pizza, when I cook it. I sometimes feel frustrated when I go other places to eat and they don't have my kind of pizza. Then I just don't eat pizza at all. I love pizza and when I don't get my kind then I will not eat it.

I love the crust hard, and crunchy, never soft. I also like the crust with extra crust on my crust. Sometimes I ask for more crust just plain with no topping but when there's my favorite topping I'll eat it. I love crust not a doubt about it, I just love it sooo much. Most people just put one layer, but I put 3 layers of crust. You could come to my house and I'll probably be eating crust or just Canadian bacon pineapple pizza.

By: Jennifer Barraza

The smell of the fresh baked pizza is tasty it makes my mouth water. Yummy! The pepperoni and smell of the melted cheese, is just so good. As you can tell I love pepperoni pizza, with lots of cheese. It's one of my family's favorites also. I think it's so magnificent.

Cheese makes pizza a pizza. Without cheese pizza is just a slice of bread. I mean cheese is so stretchy it can make a jump rope. I can assure you cheese is one of the best things in the world. Sometimes I even play with it, because it's so stretchy, and fun. Most of the time I eat Mozzarella cheese on the pizza.

Pepperoni is my favorite topping on a pizza. It's so good that it makes me forget that it's pork. Its taste is so good; you can't have just one bite. It will make you happy. Boom! That's when my mind starts to blow up, your eyes pop out and water.

Stuffed crust, it so good the way it the cheese inside the crust stretches when your tear it apart and how it tastes when I eat it. It's so good it makes my mouth water just by talking about it. Stuffed crust is so thick; I can't eat just one bite. It has so many calories. They reason I don't eat stuffed crust everyday, is because I don't want to have more chins than a Chines phonebook. I mean it so good and delicious.

Pepperoni and cheese are found to be the most famous pizza topping in the world. Maybe that why I like it so much? Pepperoni pizza is a classic topping, it's been in the world for a long time. I mean there are so many other insane ideas about new toppings. I believe that my dearest pizza topping is one of a type.

By: Ashton Weinman

Doritos, Jalapenos, and cheddar cheese makes the most delicious Taco Pizza ever! Whenever I go to the North bar with my dad we always like to order a Taco Pizza because my dad and I love it! However, the rest of my family likes it too. When my sister, and her family comes back we like to order Taco Pizza and Pepperoni so we can have a family bonding time out on our patio on a nice evening.

The crunchiness of the Doritos makes taco pizza unique. You would never guess that Doritos taste good on your pizza. But they do! The more, the better but not too much is the way I like it. The crunchier the Doritos are the better. It seems like it just tops the pizza off the scale!

The hotness of the jalapenos' flavor sizzle my taste buds. The smell of the jalapenos I personally can't have very many jalapenos on my pizza. My mouth would be on fire! On the pizza, I take off some of the jalapenos so on each slice, there are like one or two pieces of jalapenos. The best part of jalapenos on the pizza is if you take them off there will still be a spice on the pizza.

My favorite kind of cheese is on my favorite kind of pizza makes it all 10x better! On most pizzas there is mozzarella cheese on it, but on this unique pizza its cheddar cheese. With cheddar these on it, it makes it a stronger taste. Now we all know cheese makes the pizza tastier. Unless you don't like cheese then, this pizza is not for you. The stretchiness of the cheese when you bite into it, is just so mouth watering.

The crispy Doritos, burning jalapenos, and oh so good cheddar cheese is the best part of it!

TEXTING AND DRIVING

We have heard of accidents while texting and driving. The statistics are very indicative of a society that compulsively uses their phones to send text messages while driving without thinking of the potential consequences. Because of the statistics that are presented in this article we can see that there is a significant need to address this issue with students and adults.

How do we help students understand the risk?

First of all it is not only students that text and drive and it is not only students that have accidents texting and driving. When students see adults texting and driving they may not consider the danger, however any driver that texts and drives puts themselves and others at risk of injury or death.

The statistics from a survey conducted by AT&T shows that 97 percent of teens say they know that texting while driving is dangerous and 47 percent admit that they text and drive. 77 percent of those teens also said they have seen their parents text and drive. 75 percent say it is common among their friends to text while driving. (from the AT&T wireless survey at: <http://www.att.com/Common/aboutus/txtngdriving/att-teensurveyexecutive.pdf>)

Texting drivers are 23 times more likely to be in an accident. (Research from: www.vtti.vt.edu)

SAFETY COMES FIRST

Here are some key tips to stop unsafe texting.

Be Smart No text message is worth a life. Don't text and drive!

Be in Control It is your phone. You have the control to decide if and when to send and read texts so take control. There are apps on your phone that are designed to curb the urge to text and drive. Example: AT&T DriveMode app.

Be Caring and Considerate Don't send a text when you know a family member, friend, or co-worker is driving. There are many reports of people involved in accidents while answering a text.

Be a BFF Friends should not let their friends text and drive. Go to www.itcanwait.com and pledge not to text and drive, and encourage your friends to do the same. Check out the resources on that site such as a documentary that shows life-altering effects of texting behind the wheel. Tell all of your friends you care about their safety.

Think of Safety when using your phone When you are driving or when you are using your phone consider whether you are being safe and if you are putting others in dangers. Remember ---It Can Wait---you can answer texts when you are not driving . No message would be that important to risk an accident, injury or death! If you need to answer, pull over at the next safe exit and text while off of the road.

Please go to www.itcanwait.com and find out more about making a pledge to not text and drive.

Attached is a parent and student commitment to not text and drive. Please take time to read and make the commitment and periodically review it to stay safe.

We care about our students and our community. Help us implement these safe activities to keep our students safe.

Parent & Teen Pledge

Dear Parent and Teen,

In our 24/7 world, text messaging is increasingly becoming the way we communicate today. Unfortunately, some people may be texting from behind the wheel of a moving vehicle.

But when that habit hits the road, it can be dangerous. In fact, those who text while driving are 23 times more likely to be in a crash.*

You can help ensure that America's roads are safer. Please read and discuss the tips below with your whole family. Then make it official by signing the pledge.

- Be smart. Don't text and drive. No text message is worth a life.
- Be caring. Don't send a text when you know your family member, friend or co-worker is driving.
- Be in control. Remember it's your phone. You decide if and when to send and read texts so take control. Download AT&T DriveMode™ – an app designed to curb the urge to text and drive.
- Be an example. A recent survey found that 77 percent of teens say adults tell them not to text and drive - yet do it themselves "all the time." Still, 89 percent of those teens said their own parents are good role models in terms of not texting while driving, so please lead by example.

I, _____ and _____ have read and discussed the tips and pledge to be safe drivers by not texting while driving.

For more information or resources on texting and driving, and to take the pledge and show your commitment, visit www.itcanwait.com.

Junior High Sports

By: Kacee King, Senior

Volleyball

Junior High Girls wound down their volleyball season to a close. They had a great season. Both A team and B team with identical records which were 8-1.

The Junior High Volleyball coach is Wendy Dockweiler. She says "The girls excelled as a team. The knowledge and growth of the fundamental skills of volleyball improved throughout the season.

Mrs. Dockweiler has been the junior high volleyball coach for many years. She seems to really enjoy working with the girls and showing them the "to do's" on the court.

"Our practice time together is limited, yet the girls were focused and were able to show growth as they developed each skill of the game! I love seeing how each player improves from August to October.

The girls love getting on the bus and have a blast "if we could measure the fun we've had by the decibels on the bus to and from practice and games we've had a great time says Coach Dockweiler.

As the season rolled right on past the girls they have had time to improve. "The girls were willing to improve the basic fundamental skills of serving and passing.

Football

The Junior High Football season came and went just like that. They ended the season well with a record of 2-2

The Junior High football coach is Mike Waverka. He said "the boys are always excited at practice and ready to do anything we ask."

Coach Waverka seems to have a lot of fun with this junior high boys. "The boys are going great. We throw a lot at them with little time and they are starting to understand what we want them to do.

From August to October the boys have improved in many ways. "the kids are always energetic and want to get better at what they are doing. The part I like best is .that they make big improvements from week to week. Not only i that, the kids see it too. They stay excited and keep working hard. Said Waverka.

The boys and girls understood if they put the time and effort into practice their offensive and defensive skills would be effective and would enable them to succeed as a team.

More Pizza Making

Mrs. Kimball's 4th grade students have been working hard in preparation for the statewide writing assessment using the Write Tools process. They wrote about their favorite kinds of pizza, and then celebrated by making and baking their own personal pan!! When Brook arrived, she got to make her own pizza too!!!

By: Alex Streit, 4th grader

Pizza is good to eat.

I like different kinds of cheese. I don't like it when it's stringing. I like it when I just bite. I like sprinkling parmesan cheese on pizza. I like yellow cheese.

I like little bits of pepperonis. I like small pieces, not big pieces of pepperonis. Pepperonis smell awesome. I like the fire burning of the pepperonis.

I like to eat mushrooms on my pepperonis too. I like lots of big mushrooms. I love "T" mushrooms. I like them baked in the oven for 15 minutes. Awesome Pizza.

By: Aaron Edwards, 4th grader.

Pizza is good to eat! The pepperonis are good. The pound pepperonis are the best. It is really hot when I bite it. The pizza is best with lots of pepperonis all over it.

Yellow cheese is great!! It melts very easily and it is very good. Yellow cheese is best when There is little cheese. I like Yellow cheese on little or big pizza.

The sauce is spicy. The sauce looks blood red. Chef-Boy-R-Dee is my favorite sauce. Spicy sauce is the best.

As you can see, pizza is the best to eat.

Students Work Hard in Newspaper

By: Lacey Edgington, Callaway Senior

Newspaper classes have started up. This is the second time Callaway and Arnold have worked together under the direction of Nicole Badgley and Julie Mohr. This year we have new students and new programs.

We are using a new computer program, called Adobe InDesign, this will make it a lot easier for Callaway and Arnold students and teachers to exchange articles and information.

There are 7 students from Arnold: Tristan Johnson, Sadie Christensen, Dalton Warren, Brandon Moninger, Haley Reed, Morgan Eggleston, and Leah Smith.

The 9 students from Callaway include: Rebecca Johnson, Josh Peterson, Kacee King, Oscar Gonzalez, Lacey Edgington, Karni Doyle, Tiffany Potter, Erin Johnson and Emma Badgley.

The teachers of this class are Julie Mohr and Mrs. Badgley, from Arnold and they teach over the long distance equipment. Badgley says, "I don't teach any other distance learning classes this year. (In the past I have taught web design over the system, but not this year.)"

"We are trying to move to a more formal version of the newsletter that covers more hard news, and events from the month."

Also, "The public should probably know about the fact that the two are working together over the distance learning system to create both newsletters for each school."

Mrs. Mohr is also working with the class to aid in improving photography, and layout and design using the new InDesign software acquired by a grant last spring.

When asked about the difficulty of both classes together, Mrs. Badgley laughed, "Though it is easier to have direct contact with students every day, teaching over the distance learning system can also be rewarding. Teaching from a distance requires better communication from the teacher, but also from the students. Thank goodness for immediate communication methods (email, posting to web sites, and good microphones) or this could be really complicated waiting for information to travel through the mail, the fax machine or by answering machine messages.

"Due to the fact that the students are learning over the distance learning system, they have to have a bit more patients and the ability to focus with more distraction. There is often the temptation to get off track because the teacher is not directly in the room, so the student needs to be disciplined enough to get their work done on time."

The class can get loud due to microphones at both schools so that can also be a problem for some. Students also would want to be computer savvy because they use the laptops for all assignments and submit them electronically. Because it is a journalism class, the students have to be a little more organized and worried about deadlines," said

Badgley. For the exchange of articles, "The students send their articles to me via email for proofreading and editing. I then return them so they can make changes and improvements. Once the students get to final layout, then we simply print the pages that are shared."

For distributing articles Mrs. Badgley says, "Each month students are asked to write 2 to 3 articles which include: a headline, byline, dateline, caption, and an interview based article."

Fire Safety Day

By: Tristan Johnson Freshman

(Below) The fourth grade class poses for a picture in front of the Arnold ambulance. All the elementary classes enjoyed learning about fire safety and what to do in the case of an emergency. They even got to hear how loud the sirens could go! It surprised everyone in school every time they went off!

Guess Whose Shoe!

By Brandon Moninger, Freshman.

This shoe belongs to a male teacher who drinks coffee about every morning and loves to hunt.

This shoe belongs to a female teacher in the elementary and teaches English.

This shoe belongs to a female teacher, who would wear sandals all the time if she could.

This shoe belongs to a male teacher who has a bright pair of shoes.

This shoe belongs to a male teacher who likes to experiment.

CAUGHT' IN THE ACT

Messing around in Class

At Arnold Public School, the teachers make sure that the students have a healthy and balanced education without the kids being behind bars. That is, a both serious AND fun education. Here is just a peek at the good times that our students (and teachers!) have.

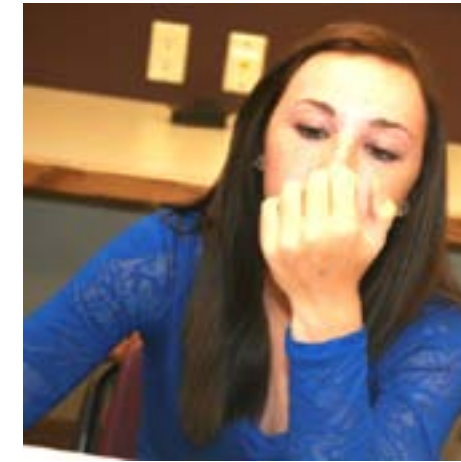

Mrs. Badgley looks for new apps and games on the App Store while her Journailsm students diligently work.

Cade Connel takes a rest in the hallway in between classes

Dalton, like a ninja, performs a perfect jump and roll across a table.

Brooke Blowers in Drama class... definitely NOT on youtube...
