Senior Class History

The class of 2024 cheerfully entered the kindergarten class eager to start the next 13 years together. Mrs. Blowers sat the 10 students, Macy Atkins, Grace Bierman, Trey Connell, Cache Gracey, Charli Vickers, Rio Remund, Isaac Tickle, Bryn Schwarz, Alex Hoyt, and Brendan Streit, on the carpet in front of the box tv with excitement. All of the sudden, Mrs. Blowers's phone rang and she had to step out of the room. Brendan saw this opportunity to run to his bag and grab his Playstation that he smuggled past his parents and teachers that morning. As he plugged it in, a grumbling sound emerged and the ground started shaking. We were now in the system.

The first stop in the system was Donkey Kong in First Grade. We found Payton Hemphill and Jackson Irwin struggling to beat the game, so we offered to help them. After a long hard fought battle, we defeated Donkey Kong. At the very top we found Peyton and Jackson's friends Alivia Robbins and Tahnnah Nokes. We saved them and they wanted to come with us as well. So we all took off back into the system with our new four friends.

Moving on to the next system was Retro Bowl, for Second Grade. Payton was one of the worst D tackles anybody has seen (except for Rio of course). Anyways she got hurt pretty bad, so she was left behind. But lucky for us, we gained two of the greatest running backs, Arena and Elizabeth Fetty. Now we were ready for the next system.

We entered the Just Dance world and needed another player so we invited Gracie Neth who was a master at the salsa. They were all doing great and completing levels when Jackson ran out of breath and everyone else was dancing and didn't notice he was on his last life.

Now, let the fourth grade games begin! To start out all of us chose the active tournament in Mario Kart. We then all joined the game, chose our characters and karts. We added in three special characters, Marianne Zuniga, Madison Smith, and Delaney Rogers. Then came the time for the track and we decided to choose Rainbow Road. We all continued to drive in circles until Alex lost control and drove off

Rainbow Road.

After driving off the Mario Kart course, the class found themselves on the fifth grade ferry to the Animal Crossing Island. They all spread out to different islands using nook mile tickets. While they were there, they found Samantha Wonch, Noah Hunt, Logan Recoy, Dawson Dogget and Harmony Borah. The class had a blast picking apples, finding fossils, and fishing with the help of their friendly, yet scary guide, Mr. Neth. Finally the class talked too much and got shipped off of the island, except for Marri-anne who missed the ship.

The ship got lost, but was found by Link who teleported them to Hyrule into the Legends of Zelda. The sixth graders teamed up to defeat Ganon, and were successful. Using the master sword and lots of bomb arrows they were able to defeat Ganon. During their quest, Madison Smith got lost while hunting koroks (weird little leaf creatures) to get their treasure. She liked the treasure, which was seeds, so much that she decided to stay with them forever as a gardener. Meanwhile, Zelda got mad at the rest of the class for taking over the kingdom as awesome rulers, much cooler than her, so Link teleported them to the Fortnite lobby.

Upon entering the Fortnite lobby in 7th grade, everyone squaded up and entered a battle royal lobby.

Due to the enhanced gaming skills of Brendan and Logan, the class of 24' would come out with a victory royal. Along the way, we were able to revive and reboot everyone and come out nearly undamaged.

The 8th grade year started off with the first wave of Zombies. The zombies were slow and few so the class was having no problem defending the school. The third and fourth wave of zombies started to give the class of 24 some trouble. Noah Hunt, one of our most trusty pea shooters was eaten by a very malnourished zombie. By the fifth wave of zombies we had raked up enough coins to buy another pea shooter, whose name was Ashlea Baldwin. Ashlea worked hard and did everything she could to fend off the fifth wave of zombies. By the sixth wave it wasn't looking so promising. The zombies were dense and they were coming fast. Alivia Robbins was the first victim. She was trampled and we had to say our goodbye's.

The class of 2024 decided to start high school with Wipe Out. With a lot of perseverance and hard work, Pedro was one of the few to make it past the punching wall and up the climbing wall to finish the course successfully and joined the rest of the victors.

After the class of 2024 got passed the wipeout course, we realized someone was missing. Unfortunately, our instructors marched us on to sophomore year without Macy. They marched us to Wii world and right into the bowling arena. Our class enjoyed a game or two.

After the games we decided to move on to our junior year, we ended up getting stuck in the Pac Man world. Our class ran as fast as possible, with a few close run-ins with the ghosts. At the end of the game, we maxed out the Pacman score causing the game to glitch. Half the world turned into ones and zeros. But we were able to escape through this glitch. However we lost one along the way, Ashlea was lost in the glitch.

After the craziness of the trip, with some getting lost on the way, but others joining our rowdy bunch too, our class decided to find a relaxing game to conclude with. After much arguing and eventually putting it to a vote, we had finally collectively decided on the creative mode in Minecraft just as we were getting transported, Brendan's Playstation glitched and we were deposited into the Jumanji, or better known as "scholarship season with a touch of senioritis."

We've all been fighting for our lives and a few of us are lucky to be here today, Grace Bierman, Harmony Borah, Trey Connell, Pedro Flores, Cache Gracey, Gracie Neth, Tahnna Nokes, Logan Recoy, Rio Remund, Delaney Rogers, Bryn Schwarz, Brendan Streit, Isaac Tickle, Charli Vickers and Samantha Wonch all survived senior year.

We're all so thankful for our teachers, parents, and community for making sure each of us made it through this crazy adventure.

Most Likely To Be President

By: Trey Connell, APS Senior

Arnold: Taking polls from each class, it was time to decide who was most likely to become President of The United States from each class in the high school.

The seniors elected Logan Recoy as their most likely to become president.

The juniors, voting in Anna Tullis, are taking the initiative of electing the first female president.

The Sophomores took the easy route and elected the already class president, Crew Whittuhn, and the freshman decided to also get a female in office with Josie Christensen being elected.

Though this is only a joke, many classes took it very, very serious. The debates that sparked immediately from the question were quite surprising.

One particular person tried to elect himself. This person was AJ Starr who thought that he could elect himself by bribery. His classmates votes had something else to say however.

I asked Crew Whittuhn who was voted president of the sophomores, and what he thought of the election. He said, "It feels pretty good, it was kind of expected since I am the president of our class though."

Logan Recoy was alot more excited and had something more to say about his election. President Recoy said, "Now I will be able to do whatever I want, whenever I want, so I'm feeling pretty good."

Now it is time to debate... Do you think that the country is in good hands?

Class Playlist

By: Trey Connell, APS Senior

Arnold: With such a diverse class, what a great idea it would be to create a senior playlist. The large number of kids mixed with the diversity of personality is sure to make a playlist you would be able to listen to at your family Christmas, or 4th of July boating.

The class was told to just start yelling names out loud of songs that they have listened to over the years while in high school. Some songs may be a way they expressed themselves, or maybe they just had a catchy beat.

Anonymous the class chose the following songs:

- Rhinestone Cowboy
- Kevin's Heart
- Songs About Whiskey
- Undefeated
- Psycho in My Head
- Dear Rodeo
- Greater
- Nights on Fire
- Million Dollar Baby (vhs version - is this a movie?)
- Crazy Story Part III
- Yo Voy
- Rain is a Good Thing
- Gasolina
- Burn Burn Burn

- Big Red Tractor
- Dancing in the Sky
- All Yourn
- Saturn
- End of Beginning
- Endless Bashing

- Burn
- 3 Wooden Crosses
- Static
- Love Lost
- Erase Me

After looking at the list, maybe it would fun for our first class reunion.

Journalism Highlights

By: Trey Connell, APS Senior

Arnold High School: Through the chaotic days of typing late articles, folding the newsletter until our fingers were raw, and being on the verge of murder, the journalism class gave their highlights from the year of making the newsletter.

Trey Connell said that the highlight of journalism for him was "having 4th period snacks to get him through the day and getting paid from sports articles in the Custer County Chief and the Callaway Courier."

Senior Gracie Neth also went down the money route. She exclaimed that her favorite part was "always getting paid for doing her assignments."

Senior Samantha Wonch said it made her "happy just to see her articles in the newspaper throughout the week."

Tahanna found that money didn't buy happiness, but food did. She said that her favorite part was "food delivery day" when Mrs. Badgley showed up with all the food we could snack on.

Our last of the seniors Cache Gracey found that his "favorite part of Journalism was having the opportunity to construct a newspaper and meeting all the new people throughout the year. Also ranking among the top of his list was the field trip taken to the Custer County Chief headquarters last year."

Overall we are all very grateful for the experiences we have had in journalism and everything we have learned from it. Some may not quite understand the strengths one can obtain by taking journalism. It can push you out of your comfort zone, get you interact with people you may have never thought you would, and teach you the importance of communication and a whole new appreciation for those who report and put out information for others read.

As we leave this year's journalism class, we encourage all underclassmen to participate in journalism. Even if you don't think it is your typical cup of tea, try stepping out of your comfort zone and giving it a chance. There is a lot one can learn from the experience of journalism and we are all thankful for our time in the class. Best of luck to the upcoming journalists and remember there is always good things that can come from journalism, even if it's just the relationships you build from the fellow classmates.

APS Tributes in the Arnold Hunger Games, Who's Going to Win?

By: Delaney Rogers, Senior

Staff Question: If the AHS Students were in the Hunger Games, Who do you think would win? Why?

Student question: If the APS Staff was in the Hunger Games, who do you think would win? Why?

"Rio Remund would most likely win because he has the outdoors skills, he's stong, and he's a survivor" -Mrs. Badgley

"Mr. Jageler would win becasue he would mind his own business and let everyone else take care of everyone else" -Trey Connell

"Tristan Evans because he can for sure handle himself and take down the rest." -Rio Remund.

"Cache Gracey would win becasue he's outdoorsy, a survival-ist, fast, and nimble." -Mr. Jageler

"Mr. Cole would win becasue he's small enough he could hide easily." -Wacey Schultz

"Rio Remund because he's a predator." -Tristian Evans

"Delaney Rogers because she would most likely be strategic about it." -Shaylee

"Ethan Furne becasue he's kind of sneaky like a snake." -Mr. Schwarz

"Mr. Schwarz would win becasue he's just Mr. Schwarz, but Mr. Wehnes would most definitely not win." -The Freshman Class

"Mrs. Kennedy would win because she just has that demeanor of a victor." -Piper Strusburg

"Brendan Streit. He'd play dead until everyone else dies and then he'd get up and claim victory." -Mr. Morgan

"Mr. Schwarz becasue he's athletic." -Grace Bierman

"Bryn Schwarz. She's quiet but she has skills, so she would calulate it out and be the victor." -Heather Hagler

"Walter Bierman because he's fast and tiny. He could hide anywhere. He'd be so sneaky as long as he doesn't laugh." -Mrs. Berglund

"Mrs. Goodenow because she would be underrated and she's got drive." -Brendan Streit

"Bryn Schwarz because she pays attention to everything and holds back, so when she makes a move she knows it's the right one." -Mrs. Moninger

"Mr. Schwarz would win because 'have you seen the guy?' -Sophmore Class

"Mrs. Badgley because she's good with a bow and arrow. I've seen people win with a bow and arrow." -Eli Rogers

"A senior. I don't know which one, but they have a smart and physical class." -Miss Borah

"Mrs. Goodenow. She'd play dirty." -Riata Remund

"Heather Hagler because she could glare at someone and they'd drop dead." -Anna Tullis.

"Mr. Schwarz because he's the most fit." -Junior Boys

"Logan Recoy because he's smart." Mrs. Sandager. ('Y'all can't outrun me' -Logan)

"Mrs. Ryan would win because she's so sweet nobody would be able to kill her." -Anonymous.

"Cache Gracey, because he is ruthless, hates to lose, and would do just about anything to survive.

He'd also be able to convince everyone else to do the dirty work until the very end, when he then would become victorious." - Mrs. Goode-now

"Definitely not my parents." -Gracie Neth

"Ivy Tullis. She has the drive and she has stamina from Cross Country." -Mr. Wehnes

"Rio Remund would win because he's the hardest working and biggest. He also keeps his head the best." -Mr. Phelps.

The Most Iconic Reasons The Class of 2024 Went to the Principals Office

The Class of 2024 has been known in the school for our rowdy behavior. These are some of the best reasons kids in our class got sent to the principal's office through the years.

Isaac Tickle Setting Off A Stink Bomb

In sixth grade, Isaac and Brendan were messing around with stink bombs during lunch. They were joking about setting it off, but then when it accidentally went off, they stuffed it in the closest bag possible to contain the smell. Unfortunately, that bag belonged to Rio Remund and it did nothing to contain the awful smell. Isaac took the fall and got sent to the principal's office and school almost got shut down. Needless to say, upper classmen were annoyed and everyone was gagging for the rest of the day.

Trey Connell's Waterballon Champ

Freshman year, during the Principal reading challenge. Trey Connell got ahold of a water balloon and chucked it right at Mr. McIntosh's face. Mr. McIntosh had his hand taped to a tree, so Trey got him square in face with enough force to leave a welt. Of course Trey got sent to the empty principal's office and pretty much got away scott free. Miss Berglund got a video of it, and we can only hope that we get to see the iconic video someday.

Devious Licks by Dawson Doggett and Cache Gracey

Anybody remember the Tik Tok trend that went around showing kids stealing from the school? Well, of course, the class of 2024 participated. Sophomore year, Cache Gracey, Dawson Doggett, and others got sent to the principal's office for having an astronomical amount of items from different classrooms in the boys' locker room. They only got caught when Dawson stupidly walked out of the art classroom with a blender while Miss Berglund was watching. Things that were in the locker included a clock, stapler, tape dispensers, and more. Everyone involved got suspended from the first half of the football game against the Sandhills Thedford Knights.

Brendan Streit Causing Eye Damage

In third grade, Brendan chose to spread hate and discontent by throwing rocks. He was a master at hitting people when they were least expecting it, but he was downright dangerous because he could also hit people while they were expecting it too.

Apparently, one afternoon while the class of 2024 was out at recess, Brendan exchanged words with Alex Hoyt and things took a turn for the worse.

Brendan got so mad he chucked rocks right at Alex's face and hit the poor kid multiple times straight in the eye. Brendan was punished, sent to the principal's, and Alex still wears glasses to this day.

Since day one, the Class of 2024 has been pushing the boundaries set for us and striving to create change. I urge you guys to keep doing so throughout your lives, but remember that there is no more principal's office anymore. DON'T END UP IN JAIL!!

Bryn Schwarz, Cache Gracey, and Trey Connell in 6th Grade Band Class holding up the "blood" gang sign which describes our class perfectly.
